Introduction

I have enjoyed walking in the woods for as long as I can remember – so much to see, to hear, to feel, to touch. A perfect escape from anything, and everything.

There is a small forest behind our house that is full of all the things you typically see in the forest. We've made a few paths here and there and it's obvious we are not the only ones who enjoy a walk through the woods. The wildlife is abundant, along with the breezes, the sunshine and the welcomed rain and snow.

What follows was written, or at least imagined, sometime during the Summer of 2025 while I was walking through or thinking about the woods. Wandering, looking, listening and wondering...

All the photos were taken in the woods or in the surrounding yard. The cranes, the eagle and the deer are frequent visitors, as are all their friends. They are always welcome!

I hope you enjoy.
